Republican Soldiers' Meeting at Philadelphia

SERENADE TO GENERALS SHERIDAN AND SICKLES

PHILADELPHIA, Sept 27, 1867.

An immense Republican Soldiers' meeting was held this evening at National Hall, General Louis Wagner presiding Among the resolutions adopted were the following

Resolved, That the bright promise of solid peace, a restored Union, perfect harmony and positive prosperity was blasted by the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, and the subsequent treachery of William H. Seward, and the perfidy of Andrew Johnson

Resolved, That Andrew Johnson, elected Vice President and Acting President, has proved himself the worst enemy the Republic has ever had.

Resolved, That we urge the House of Representatives, when it shall assemble in November next, to formally impeach Andrew Johnson of high crimes and misdemeanors

Resolved, That now, as in 1861, we are prepared for an uprising of the American people, we are ready to quit workshops, factory, desk and farm to cast aside domestic ties, and arm and fight for our country and freedom and the rights of all loyal children, that, mindful of the past, we will never suffer rebels to rule patriots, our glorious leaders to be reviled, and our Congress to be resisted by a traitorous President, backed by a guilty band of conspirators and powerful but misguided party.

After the adjournment of the meeting, the procession formed and marched to the Union League House. After music from the band. Generals Sheridan and Sickles made their appearance, and were received with prolonged cheering. General Wagner addressed them as follows

Comrades of the Army of the Republic In extending this cordial welcome, true to the country in its hour of danger, we find you still true in its present hour of danger from covert rebellion As we followed you then in the fight, we will now follow you in your efforts to reconstruct the South upon the basis of the will of loyal men, as expressed in the Acts of Congress.

General Sheridan came forward and was introduced by Major McMichael, and was received with vociferous applause.

General Sheridan returned thanks for the honor conferred upon him by the Grand Army of the Republic He said he should remember to the close of his life the days he had spent in Philadelphia. He then bid the crowd good-by and retired.

In response to calls for General Sickles, he came forward and said .

Comrades : I am glad to see you, one and all, and thank you for these expressions of attachment and regard. This meeting recalls times when the country was in peril, when Holt and Scott were holding Washington for the inauguration of Lincoln, and Cameron was filling the arsenals Floyd had emptied; when Stanton, the great War Minister of modern times, created armies at Antietam, Shiloh, Gettysburg, Chattanooga, Winchester and Richmond [cheers]. We recall the day when the crouching rebellion held Sheridan's stirrup while he mounted for a ride through the valley [prolonged cheers]. We see Hancock repelling the enemy's charge on Cemetery Ridge. We see Lee surrender his sword and his army to Grant, invincible in the field, trustworthy in council; yet Peace has her victories also. New Government is engaged in the conservative duty of organizing loyal civil authority in the rebel States. Of course this can only be done by giving the right to vote to all loyal people in the South [applause], and until the loyal State Governments are established Congress must retain control, no other means being possible. Military officers have been sent to execute the laws of Congress, preserve order, protect the loyal people and superintend the formation of the State Governments It has been said that Congressional action and military protection were unnecessary; let us see about that for a moment. The Legislature of South Carolina in 1865 passed a law, approved by Perry, Provisional Governor, re organizing the militia of the State. By that law any officer of the militia was authorized in the exercise of his own discretion, to call out his command, shoot down, disperse, and kill and destroy any assemblage of freed people of color found anywhere Under the circumstances that meant mischief The law was suspended by military authority, and Congress prohibited all such militia. [Cheers for Congress and General Sickles] In North Carolina, in 1865, a law was passed legalizing all transactions of guardians, executors and trustees, by which property of widows and orphan children was turned into Confederate money, Confederate bonds, and went to bolster up the rebellion and impoverish the women and children to whom it belonged. A worthy citizen of New York, whose name is McLaughlin, went to South Carolina soon after the war, and hired an abandoned plantation from the Freedmen's Bureau, in whose charge it was placed by law. McLaughlin planted and raised a crop, when along came a returned rebel and claimed the land, had him put in prison until he could find $40,000 bail for trespass, and took possession of land and crops. [Cries of "Shame, shame"] That is a specimen of the treatment Northern settlers have received in the absence of military protection, since given by Congress. In Caswell county, South Carolina, during the war, a loyal student, while escaping from the enemy's lines to ours, where he afterward did good service, took without leave one night a piece of bacon for his subsistence on the march When he returned home after the war was supposed to be over, he was tried on a charge of burglary, and sentenced to be hung and to pay the costs [Laughter and cheers.] While he was awaiting his trial and pending the execution of his sentence, the prisoner was chained inside an iron cage, and kept there for a year, without a blanket in the Winter. Information of his case was undergoing investigation when the Governor of North Carolina, in exercise of power granted to him by the military commander, pardoned the man The costs not having been paid on account of poverty, he was confined for some time afterward in the same place until released by military authority Here is an illustration of what must have been the fate of loyal refugees if the Government had not afforded them military protection. Three thousand schools for the education of the freed people have been established under the protection of our bayonets Two hundred and fifty thousand colored people attend these schools Nor has our presence aided only our loyal friends, whom we were bound in honor and humanity to protect. Assured of justice, free labor has produced this year 2,500,000 bales of cotton, and the largest crop of grain raised in many years. The value of this crop in money is $200,000,000, its value to the population of the South can only be measured by the estimate to be put on their lives, for, without it, they must have perished by famine, and yet without military protection the freedmen would have fled from their old masters and sought security and employment in free States Congress did not send us there to compel the rebels to pay the expenses of the war, as Bismarck would have done The North is paying the costs of the rebellion, after winning a victory, and we have been helping our former adversaries to food and clothe themselves and to recover from the ruin in which they have involved themselves. [The crowd here became very much excited] History may be challenged for another instance in which vanquished enemies have been so generously treated by their conquerors My strength and your patience will not hold out if my remarks be prolonged I will add one or two observations, with your indulgence, before I say "Good night" Comrades This Government is a republic, where the will of the people is the law of the land. This maxim, so full of wisdom and truth, we have from Grant, General-in Chief of our armies. No military authority has been exercised in rebel States not authorized by Congress and sanctioned by the laws of the land. Military force is there only to execute the laws Under military protection loyal civil Government will be established and maintained by ballots put in the hands of loyal men If this could have been done ten years ago, we would have had no rebellion. If we do it now we will not have another Have no fear that the colored race will not know their friends from their foes Their hearts, full of gratitude, will govern their conduct as citizens Loyalty and order are to them almost as sacred as religion, indeed, they believe theirs to be the work of Providence. Safe and trusted at home, they will contribute vastly to the resources of the nation, and take nothing away from the employments or franchises of any other race or class. Within the sound of my voice is the spot where the sublime truth was proclaimed that "All men are created free and equal." Upon this rock our republican institutions are built; no power can prevail against it Comrades, let us not forget our brave companions who fell in the war for the Union Their shroudless forms lie buried in many a forest and field, like Autumn leaves, their nameless graves are numbered only by the Recording Angel Let us sometimes listen to their sad voices, mournful as muffled drums, and heard even through the yielding sod They say to us, Now, brothers, you who are spared, leave not undone the work we did not live to help you do.

A Gentleman Hunts for a Rat Under a Lady's Skirt.

A short time since the wife and family of a New York merchant returned from Europe bringing with them a young German lady, who came to visit some relatives living in New York. The moment the steamer was telegraphed as being below, Mr L , the merchant, left his store and drove to the pier, anxiously awaiting the moment when

"Far, far across the sea,"

"Two souls with but a single thought,
Two hearts that beat as one," would be gladly reunited in a loved embrace. The minutes seemed hours, but at length the steamer came Mr. L in an ecstacy of delight, embraced and kissed his wife and children, and after welcoming Miss Lena—the young lady—drove them home.

Happiness reigned throughout the household The day was passed in romping with the children —those dear little ones who had been absent so long—in listening to stories of journeys through Germany and Switzerland, and in bantering Miss Lena with having come so far away from home, not to visit her relatives, but to secure a husband in a foreign clime. Dinner was announced. Away scampered the children, and Mrs. L, and Mr. L. and Miss Lena bringing up in the rear. The dining room was reached, and the happy family were about seating themselves when the sound of music in the distance was heard. Each listened to the delicious strains, which

"Like music of the sweet South,
Breathes upon a bank of violets
Stealing and giving odors," approached the house. Away to the front door ran the children in joyful glee, and after them Mrs. L. "How delightful! What can it be?" inquired Miss Lena. "Some regiment returning from parade," responded Mr. L seating himself quietly to discuss the elegant dinner he had ordered to be prepared Just then—O, horror!—Miss Lena, with a look of unutterable misery and alarm, clasped her skirts and gave forth a terrific scream. "Good heavens! What has happened?" exclaimed Mr. L , rushing frantically beside her. "There's something running up my skirts!" she gasped, clasping the aforesaid still tighter. "Something running up your skirts! What can it be?" and dropping upon one knee, encircled Miss Lena's waist with one arm, Mr. L commenced to feel under her skirts for the terrible something! "Oh! Mr L! what shall I do?" screamed Miss Lena. "Be quiet; don't get frightened," said Mr. L., while the door opened and Mrs. L. appeared What a situation! Mr L upon his knee, one arm about Miss Lena's waist, the other—where? under her skirts! Mrs. L stood for a moment transfixed with indignation, then throwing herself into a chair wept bitter tears of shame, saying, "Oh! George! George! I never could have believed this of you—never!" Mr. L. tried to explain Mrs. L. would not listen. Miss Lena, conscious of her innocence, but realizing the awfulness of her position in which she had been placed, began to weep as well as scream, when Mr. L. feeling that he had been cruelly deceived, rushed angrily towards her, evidently with the intention of doing her bodily harm, when a large rat ran from beneath Miss Lena's clothes! Such a time as there was then! Mrs. L. folding her dress about her form, jumped upon a chair, Miss Lena fainted outright, and Mr. L. seizing the poker, commenced with his ratship a race for life. Up and down the room, here, there, everywhere, ran the rat, followed closely by Mr. L At length—"O! 'twas a sorry sight"—with one fell swoop the cause of this terrible mishap was defunct!

Mrs. L. could scarcely forgive herself for suspecting her dear George. Miss Lena was restored to consciousness, kissed Mrs L a dozen times, and finally acknowledged the position was rather a strange one for a married man But Mr. L. after having placed hors du combat his ratship, restored tranquility and laughed good naturedly at the jealousy of his wife, and resolved within himself that the next time he hunts for rats under a young lady's skirt it would be away from home.

Oriental Apothegms.

As by repeated efforts a stone is mounted upon the summit of a hill and instantly thrown down, so may we ourselves, by our virtues and our vices, be elevated or cast down.

SAILING CARRIAGE.—The St Louis' Democrat describes a "sailing carriage for the Plains." It has two upright jib sails, and a sail on each spoke of the two wheels, one on each side of the wagon, with steering gear acting on the forward wheels, and provisions for transferring the wheel sails to the opposite wheels. The inventor is Charles P. Macsowitsky, a German, who has spent several years in traversing the Plains. A similar institution was once made in Illinois at great expense and proved an utter failure.

The New University Building.

[From the Salem Daily Record]

To-day the new building will be occupied for the first time by the classes of the University. The old "Institute" has fulfilled for a quarter of a century an important position, and will, no doubt, still be used to good advantage in the same capacity, but the new and elegant building, which must ever remain as a proud monument of the indefatigable exertions of Rev. A F. Waller and the liberality of the people of Oregon, stands to day a fitting representation of the growth and prosperity and the position sustained in it by Willamette University.

On Saturday afternoon we went over the new edifice, to obtain a correct idea of its apartments. The basement remains as yet unfinished On the first floor is the largest hall in this city, occupying the main portion of that floor, the chapel, which is handsomely finished, and capable of seating 500 persons. This can be entered by the main portal on the north, or by side entrances from the east and west halls. The east entrance is intended for the use of males, the west for females. At the west wing is a parlor and ladies' reception room, carpeted, and to be neatly furnished, to contain a piano; a library room well stocked with volumes, is behind the circular stairway in a room in the same wing. In the east wing is a recitation room, with an apparatus room similarly located to the library room in the west wing.

Ascending handsome circular flight of stairs, we arrive at the second floor, which is devoted to the primary academical and classical departments. There are four convenient school rooms, capable of containing from 60 to 75 pupils each. Very handsome and convenient desks are arranged, and in most of the rooms the walls are spanned with blackboards. At the head of the respective stairways are dressing rooms, with multitudes of hooks and accommodations for hats and coats, or shawls, cloaks and bonnets,

On the third floor are two elegant halls for the use of college societies, two rooms for the medical and surgical department, and a school room for the collegiate classes. The attic is [illegible] above this, where abundant room remains un[illegible]ployed for calisthenic and gymnastic purposes, and intended to be so applied.

THE CASE OF DR. BLACKBURN.—The following letter was dispatched to day, under date of Washington, September 25th :

Department of State, Washington, September 25, 1867 —D. Thurston, United States [illegible], Toronto, Ontario—Sir: Your dispatch [illegible] the 17th of September, No 223, has been received with an an accompaniment, which is an affidavit containing an oath of allegiance subscribed by S. P. Blackburn, and verified by yourself. I remit that paper to your care, with permission to restore it to the affidavit. I assume that the paper was made and delivered to you with a view to its being filed in this Department, under provision of the President's proclamation of pardon issued on the 7th of September instant The affiant is understood to be the person who is called Doctor Blackburn. Nothing is known by this Department concerning him as having directly or indirectly participated in the late rebellion. All that is known is that he lies under the charge of felony in this that he conceived and put into execution, within a foreign jurisdiction, a plot to disseminate contagion and pestilence in this and other cities of the United States by clandestinely transmitting for an unsuspecting market masses of infected clothing, taken from the corpses of persons who had died of the yellow fever in the tropics. It is not easy to understand how an offense of that character, which is a detestable crime against mankind, can be supposed even by the felon himself to be entitled to be regarded as an act of insurrection, rebellion, or civil war. The President's proclamation offers no immunity in this case. I am, sir, your obedient servant,

WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

A COPPERHEAD THREAT.—The Philadelphia Sunday Mercury contains the following in its Washington correspondence .

Let Congress attempt to depose our worthy chief magistrate, and such a hurricane will be raised as the world never saw. Thirty thousand armed and equipped militia from the State of Maryland, to say nothing of the hundreds of thousands from the North, would assemble and fight for the maintenance of the Government against the oppressors and usurpers. Then instead of regal honors at the Executive mansion, as contemplated by Mr Wade, a halter would be his end—a fit punishment for his treachery and contumacy.

Needles were first made in London by a negro from Spain in the reign of Queen Mary. He died without imparting the secret of his art. The art was recovered in 1565. Elias Growse first taught the English to make needles, but the art was again lost for nearly a century, when it was again recovered by Christopher Greening, who settled at Long Crendon, in Buckinghamshire Needles are now chiefly made at Redditch, in Worcestershire, Hathersage, in Derbyshire, and in and near Birmingham. Some years ago 100,000,000 needles a week were made in Redditch.

It is said that there are in Iowa nearly two hundred lodges of a secret order, whose nominal object is "liberty and brotherhood," but whose real and primary design is the abrogation of all laws interfering with the traffic in intoxicating drinks.

Taxing Government Securities.

We have shown by overwhelming proofs, drawn from the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, that Government securities cannot, consistently with the Constitution, be subjected to State taxation. That there might be no cavil about it, we showed that the same doctrine had been held on the subject by the Court when two-thirds of the Judges were Democrats, as had been held by Chief Justice Marshall and his associates. Further, we proved by the testimony of this Democratic Court that the Republican majority in Congress is not responsible for the exemption of bonds from taxation, but that the principle of exemption is found in the Constitution itself. As often as this question has been before the Court, no Judge of any political faith or party, has ever dissented from the opinion that the tax is unconstitutional. We have already cited from four cases in which the whole subject was fully considered by the Court and the reasons for the exemption ably and clearly shown. Later decisions might be multiplied on the subject; and just to show our wise neighbor who once did not believe that the Supreme Court had ever passed upon the question at all that we are not compelled to "rest our case" on the decisions already indicated, we shall cite a few of the later cases which have been before the Supreme Court. After the decision was made in case of the Bank of Commerce vs. New York City (the case which was decided by the Democratic Supreme Court as shown in a former article) the case of the Bank of the Commonwealth vs. Tax Commissioners of New York was heard by the same Judges and decided in the same way. As the questions raised in this case were precisely the same as those raised in the former one, and as the decision of the Court was rendered the same way for the same reasons, the case need not be mentioned further. In 1863 the Legislature of the State of New York passed an act providing that "all banks, banking associations, etc., should be liable to taxation on a valuation equal to the amount of their capital stock paid in or secured to be paid in." Under this act a tax was laid by the Commissioners upon the different banks of New York City, several of which had invested their whole capital in the securities of the General Government. The State Courts sustained the act, and the banks took the case to the Supreme Court of the United States. It was held that "a tax laid by a State on a bank is a tax on the property of the institution; and when that property consists of stocks of the Federal Government, the law laying the tax is void." When this decision was pronounced a majority of the Court was still composed of Democratic Judges, namely: Justices Wayne, Catron, Nelson, Grier and Clifford. This Democratic Court again gave the subject its very full and deliberate consideration and decided as before that a tax on Government securities held by a banking association was the same thing as a tax on such securities when held by an individual; that it was a tax on the constitutional power of the Government to borrow money, and that it was therefore void. The former decisions were referred to and the doctrines expressed therein reaffirmed. (2 Wallace, 200.)

In the case of Van Allen vs. The Assessors, (3 Wallace, 573,) when the Court was considering the question whether a State possesses the power to authorize the taxation of the shares of the national banks in the hands of stockholders, the well settled doctrines of the law on the subject of taxing Government bonds were alluded to and again affirmed. This was in December, 1865. We have not pretended to go through the whole mass of reports, as we have already cited cases enough to show beyond any question that bonds cannot be taxed. The issue of every case that has gone to the Supreme Court has been the same, and if any State attempts to tax Government securities, the holder has only to take the case to the Supreme Court of the United States to get a judgment against such action. If the uniform decisions of fifty years do not settle the law, what additional authority can be wanted? What principle can be said to be settled if this one is not?

Since these things are so, how utterly absurd is the great outcry that is made for the taxation of bonds. The American people made their Constitution, and that Constitution is so framed that such an act on the part of the States would be in derogation of its powers. If the people wish to subject Government securities to State taxation, they must first amend the Constitution; and even then they could not tax the bonds already issued without violating the faith that has been pledged to those who hold them. But this would not be the worst. No government which would allow its members or the corporate bodies under it to impose this burden on its power to raise money, could perpetuate its existence. The excessive taxation of its securities by its disaffected members would be a severer blow than to admit the right of secession. No Government ever conceded this right of taxation however wise. Than such an act, a more complete case of felo de se would be impossible.

NOT TOO OLD TO LEARN.—This from the "veteran editor's" paper of March 26th, 1867:

> We did not know that the Supreme Court had decided upon the right of States to tax Government bonds. The OREGONIAN boasts that it has some in possession of decisions of the Supreme Court as far back as 1822, of which we confessed we had never heard, and loudly vaunts its superior knowledge.

And this from the "veteran editor's" paper of October 20th:

> No one disputes the facts alleged, that the Supreme Court has decided that Government securities cannot be taxed by the States.

In another place, in the same issue of his paper from which the last extract is taken, he says that these things "are perfectly familiar to all at all acquainted with the political history of the country." It is clear that his knowledge of the subject has been obtained since last March, because he said at that time that he knew nothing about it. And as he has succeeded in learning something during the past six months, isn't it just possible that notwithstanding his age, experience and wisdom, there may still be something for him to learn?

Heretofore the Copperhead press of Oregon have vehemently denied that the Supreme Court had ever decided that under the Constitution Government bonds are exempt from taxation. But the paper which assumes to be the leading organ of the party has been compelled to confess it. They could cry down the opinions of Chief Justice Marshall because that eminent jurist was not a Democrat; but when it was shown that Chief Justice Taney and a Supreme Court, two-thirds of whose members were Democrats, had held that bonds could not be taxed, they gave it up. The "leading organ" now virtually admits that its party was in error in charging the Republicans with exempting the bonds from taxation. As it acknowledges itself convinced, we have a right to expect that it will stop its twaddle on the subject. This demagoguery has been the staple of most of its leading articles for a year past; and now, if it is actuated by motives of common honesty, it will quit its old habit, and in future set a better example for its brethren of the press whom it assumes to lead.

The population of Ireland in the first six months of 1860 was 5,582,625, and for the first six months of the present year, 5,556,052, of whom 2,680,701 were males and 2,870,171 females.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—It was rumored on the street yesterday afternoon that A. M. Chappell, a well known real estate dealer and capitalist, had committed suicide, and it was thought that he was the person who was seen to jump from the ferry boat Washoe Saturday evening, while she was on her way to Oakland. Facts have been developed since that evening which indicate that the person was Mr. Chappell. He started for Oakland on Saturday, about one o'clock P. M. At his departure from home he kissed his wife affectionately and bade her adieu. He then went to the office of G. T. Knox and called him aside. After a moment's conversation, he remarked: Well, George, I am going over, God bless you; good-by. At Oakland he wrote a note to Mr. Knox which he sealed and left at Bamber's express office. He then came back, but did not go home, and started for Oakland again on the six P. M. boat. The letter is to be withheld from publication by Mr. Knox till the remains have been recovered and an inquest held. In the letter he announced his full intention to commit suicide by drowning. Last year he held the office of Vice President of the Society of the California Pioneers. He leaves a wife but no children. His death has created a profound sensation among a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Commodore Carter says that the prospects of getting the wreck of the Shubrick off are fair. The engines have been taken out and landed safely, and a party of laborers are at work among the boilers. As soon as that is done, the damage to the hull of the vessel will be repaired, and it is thought that if the weather remains good the wreck may be afloat in the course of four or five weeks. Collector Miller has placed the Wyanda at the disposal of Commodore Carter, to be used by him as the necessities of the case may require.

A cold blooded murder was committed at Oakland this morning, the victim of which was Police Officer Richardson. It appears that a negro, whose name is given as Thomas, had a difficulty yesterday with some men about a lot of land, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. It was placed in Richardson's hands, and this morning he proceeded to the negro's house to arrest him. As he opened the door the negro fired at him. The ball struck Richardson in the right side and passed entirely through his body. He fell backwards and instantly expired. The murder caused great excitement in the community, where Richardson was universally respected. He leaves a wife and three children at Oakland. A large and excited crowd collected and would have lynched the negro but for the promptness of the officers who had him in charge. The prisoner was taken to San Leandro.

The Board of Supervisors last night passed a resolution ordering the payment of twenty thousand dollars to the three commissioners who took evidence and made the report on assessments and awards for the Kearney street improvements, to wit: E. N. Torrey, A. D. Forbes and C. C. Webb, and seven thousand dollars to Alexander Campbell.

The British ship Magnolia arrived from Hong Kong last night. The runners attempted to board the vessel, but were ordered off. Not heeding the order the Captain armed his crew with rifles, and told them to shoot the first man who attempted to board the ship. The runners withdrew.

This morning the body of a man was found in the mud and water, near the corner of Fifth and Brannan streets, and identified as that of Christopher Conrad.

The body of a man floated ashore at Lime Point, this morning, and was buried in that vicinity. Coroner Harris has received a description of the remains. Deceased appeared to be about thirty years of age. The body had probably been in the water ten or twelve days and was much disfigured.

Michael Mahan was examined before the commissioners of lunacy to-day and ordered sent to Stockton.

Sunday night nine of the crew of the British ship Blackwell refused to work and were put in irons.

The coroner's jury in the case of the little boy, Chas. Henry Held, killed on Saturday, by being run over by one of the omnibus railroad cars, acquit the driver of all blame.

Produce Market.

Flour—Market quiet; Oregon extra brands in qr sks, firmly held at $7 75@7 85½; city mills quoted, superfine, qr sks, $7 50; extra do, $8 25.

The wheat market is remarkably quiet, in consequence of the absence of available tonnage for grain; holders demanding $2 20@2 65 ℔ 100 lbs.

Barley is quoted at $1 70@1 80 for good feed and brewing, and $1 85@1 95 for old crop.

STATE ITEMS.

Capt. L. L. Williams has been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of R. A. Cowles, late Clerk of Douglas county.

The Salem Unionist says that the Durbin Bros. last week began another brick building on the corner, where the livery stable was burned down. This will fill out the grounds and give a decidedly improved appearance to their property.

The Salem Record learns that Hon. B. F. Harding has sold his beautiful farm, containing 1,400 acres, of land—800 acres good bottom land, situated in Santiam bottom to C. M. Cartwright, Esq., for $10,000. Mr. Cartwright intends to cultivate 200 acres of the improved portion in flax seed the coming season.

The Albany Journal says: The Board of Trustees of Albany College had a meeting last Saturday, when it was reported that the building contract was completed, at a total cost of $7,857 75. The grounds have yet to be improved, which will require an additional outlay. This edifice is an ornament to the city.

The Record says: The last of the machinery for the oil mill has arrived here, and lies at the wharf in the shape of two pieces of iron weighing about three tons each, intended for the hydraulic press. The pressure of five hundred tons is used in extracting the oil, and these pieces of machinery have corresponding weight and dimensions.

The Roseburg paper tells of a radical there, who while reading the news, was asked what two States the Democrats had gained, as they were firing powder with great glee. His answer was very appropriate and decidedly witty: "They have gained the state of sin and the state of misery." On hearing that California had gone Democratic, the Democracy gave cheers for Vallandigham, Lee and Surratt, which proves the truth of his assertion.

The Sentinel learns that last week as Mr. Chadwick, in Sam's Valley, was riding through the woods, in that neighborhood, driving some cattle, a shot was fired from a clump of brush, the ball from the firearm taking effect in the horse's neck. Chadwick, thinking it was an accidental shot, rode by the same place soon after, when another shot was fired, the ball striking him in the arm. The man then ran, when it was perceived that his face was covered by a handkerchief.

A Spaniard while herding cattle on Trail creek, in Jackson county, was shot by Indians last week. The circumstances are that the Mexican, while performing his duties as herder, came across a rancheria of four or five Indians, who had killed some of his stock. The Mexican said he told them they must not kill his cattle, whereupon the Indians fired at him, hitting his horse. He turned and ran, but had not got far before his horse fell dead. He then continued his flight on foot.

The steam saw mill of Davidson & Coleman, at Fairfield, was burned on last Friday morning. The fire is supposed to have caught at a much earlier hour, but was discovered at 4 o'clock in the morning. The building was new, and as the green timbers did not burn rapidly, the fire was extinguished without much trouble. The loss is not total. A new planer was just put in, which is probably ruined. The mill was an excellent one, and had been in operation about two months. So says the Record.

The Sacramento Union says that if the Democratic party triumphs, "it is useless to say that there will be no repudiation. How can a Democratic party, once triumphant North and South, prevent repudiation? Consistency will require of it to throw off the "Northern" debt as the "Southern" debt was thrown off; or else the country must assume them both. Let us not imagine, however, that this will be all. Democratic construction of the Constitution makes it necessary to pay for slaves and other rebel property lost in the war. Slavery having been abolished by the United States, and not by the free-will act of the States, they say that the nation has made itself liable for compensation. Democratic Judges will so decide. Let those who fancy they will get better measures or escape public burdens under Democratic rule beware. There is no hope in that quarter for any man even who loves only himself, much less for one who loves his country."

The Herald don't like the way in which "school boys" conduct an argument. Let the reader observe the elegant, profound and convincing manner in which the "veteran editor" presents his case against an opponent:

> He goes to his old school master and gets stuffed for the discussion of some special topic, but being too weak to properly digest the mental pabulum which he has taken in, he vomits it upon his readers in a crude state, mixed with his own slobberings, and then points to the unseemly conglomerate with an air of triumph, as the emanation of his own transcendant genius:

This will serve as a specimen of what the "able editor" can do in the way of "argument" when he deems it worth his while to try. It shows what a "matured judgment" is capable of. Beriah is so "veteran" that he is in his dotage. Designed originally for a fishwoman, he was so badly compounded that nothing could be made of him but a "leading" Democratic editor.

The New York Times thinks the champion business is considerably overdone. We have billiard champions, fighting champions of half a dozen sorts, heavy weights, catch weights; base ball champions, somersault champions, wrestling champions, quoit champions, running, leaping, swimming, shooting, walking, singing, dancing and skating champions. Each trade has its champions; there is a type-setter, a calf butcher, a chair maker, and a score of others, each of whom claims the championship in his own particular department. Then we have champion yachts, horses, skiffs, billiard tables, &c., and the cry is still they keep coming. Let the "champion" business subside; the thing is a nuisance. A new hobby is wanted.

John S. Kinkead is the name of the person appointed Postmaster at Alaska. He was formerly of the mercantile firm of Livingston, Kinkead & Co., Salt Lake, more recently of Virginia City, and still more recently a resident of San Francisco.

TO PERSONS WHOSE HEALTH IS BROKEN DOWN. Every disease might unquestionably be prevented if nature were assisted to rally with that most wonderful of all invigorators,

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

When the flame of life wanes and quivers from exhaustion, administer this famous restorative. It will once more become steady and strong. In the debility which follows violent fevers, in diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspeptic complaints and colic, in the weakness consequent upon natural decay, or resulting from free living or over exertion, and also in those painful and too much neglected ailments to which ladies are exclusively subject, the Bitters never fail to give permanent relief.—Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

The falling off in the amount of revenue tax for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1867, from the year 1866, is accounted for principally by the following reasons:

The number of persons who returned income for the year 1865, was one thousand eight hundred and twenty-three. In consequence of the change in the law allowing $1,000 exemption instead of $600, only twelve hundred persons have returned income for the year 1866. Exempting 1,200 persons from a tax on $400 each, makes a difference to the income tax for the year 1866, of $24,000. The six hundred and odd persons who returned income for the year 1865, would, on an average, if only six hundred had been exempt, have returned $200 each, the tax on which would have been $6,000. In last year's statement there was $4,553 for lager beer. Since January 1st, 1867, the tax on lager beer, ale and porter has been paid by stamps being put on the packages, and is not included in the statement for 1867. Up to the 30th June, 1867, there had been paid of stamps on lager beer, $2,651. There are also some forty different articles now exempt from duty, which were formerly taxed and went to make up the statement for the year 1866. Also, on most all of the articles that now pay a duty the tax is only 2½ per cent where it used to be 5 and 6 per cent.

The foregoing goes to show the prosperity and progress of Oregon, by returning for the year 1867, nearly as much revenue as for the year 1866, notwithstanding the additional exemption of $400 to each person returning income, and the great number of articles now exempt, which formerly paid a duty. When the law was amended, July, 1866, I did not think the revenue of Oregon would amount to $200,000. I am now satisfied that had no changes been made Oregon would have returned $400,000 for 1867.

THOMAS FRAZAR, Assessor.
Ass. As. Office, Portland, Oct. 22d, 1867.

SUICIDE OF HARRY LAMBERT.—Mr. Burns, sheriff of Clackamas county, furnishes us the following particulars of the suicide of Harry Lambert, on Monday morning, two miles from Oregon City: Lambert was a single man living alone. Of late he had been unwell; and a boy of Mr. Bell, one of the neighbors, had been staying with him. During Sunday night, the boy says, Lambert was uneasy, wakeful and flighty in mind. Waking suddenly at one time, he started up and asked the boy what he was doing in his house. The boy replied that he (Lambert) was sick and he was staying with him to take care of him. Lambert got very much excited, and said he was not sick; got his pistol and flourished it around all the time talking wildly and making threats. After a little he became composed and went to sleep again. Toward morning he awoke again and giving some directions about feeding the horses, went out and was gone some time. When he returned, he sent the boy to his home with a chicken to be dressed and cooked. Before the boy started, Lambert handed him $75 in coin and a note for a large amount, directing him to give them to his father. The boy then left and went to his father's house which stands not far from Lambert's. When he gave his father the money, and told his story of the night's doings, the latter remarked that there must certainly be something wrong with Lambert, and he and the boy immediately started for Lambert's house. When within a short distance of the house, they heard the report of a pistol, and when they entered they found Lambert lying on the floor, with a bullet hole in his forehead, out of which a large stream of blood was pouring. Lambert was already dead. He was holding a pistol in his left hand, the thumb and fingers of which were powder burned. He seemed to have held the pistol by the barrel with his left hand and pulled the trigger with his right hand which was also burned. Lambert was an old settler, having been a resident of Clackamas county when Mr. Burns arrived there in 1852. He had some property. There are no relations known to any of his neighbors. He was an Irishman by birth. He had some papers deposited in the safe of Mr. Ralston, who is now absent, but is expected [illegible] by the Oriflamme. When he arrives, the papers may disclose facts connected with the unfortunate suicide's family.

BUSINESS IN UMATILLA.—We copy the following from the financial and commercial report of the Columbia Press of the 19th:

The first part of the week was characterized by the same activity in trade that existed at the commencement of the month, but as we go to press the market shows some signs of decline. Freights have run very light during the week; the boats have not brought up full cargoes, while teams and trains are now more plentiful than for some time previous, especially has this reference to farmer's teams from Grand Ronde and Powder River Valleys who are all desirous of getting freight to those points only. The rates of freight rule as before quoted, but show a tendency favoring the shipper. We observe the machinery of the Lucy Phillips Mining Company, at Yuba, is being stored under the sheds, to await transportation thither until next spring. The season is too far advanced to start with it now, for such a mountainous country as the South Boise district. The circulation, at quoted rates, of larger amounts of legal tenders as prevailing currency here, is a pleasing feature to our business community. While we personally are opposed to any kind of currency other than metallic, we still decidedly approve of the introduction of legal tenders at market rates. Gold dust, as a currency, is a nuisance, giving satisfaction to no one, and often causing serious misunderstandings.

WASHINGTON COUNTY COURT.—The Circuit Court for Washington county, Judge Shattuck presiding, opened on Monday at 10 o'clock A. M. The grand and trial juries were impanneled and sworn. The only case decided on Monday was the application of Lafayette Macklin for a divorce from his wife Pauline; decree of divorce granted. There are several other applications for divorces and several criminal cases on the docket or to go before the grand jury. The case of the State vs. Savage; indictment for tearing down a county bridge; set for trial Tuesday. Messrs. Dolph and Mulkey were the only attorneys in attendance from Portland.

PROBABLY A FALSE RUMOR.—The Walla Walla Statesman of the 18th, says: "A rumor was current early in the week that the First National Bank of Idaho had failed. The rumor is not confirmed, and we presume that the report is a mistake. In the absence of positive information as to the condition of the National Banks, it would be well to decline to receive their issues."

The rumor was undoubtedly without foundation, as the Boise Statesman of the 17th, has no mention of such a thing, nor has the World of the 17th. Had the failure occurred, both those papers would have mentioned the fact.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In the Recorder's Court, yesterday, the case of Lee Fan, a Chinaman accused of an attempt to suborn perjury, was set for trial on Saturday next.

State vs. Thos. Atkinson; accused of the robbing of a horse from Terrence Monaghan; set for trial on Thursday, the 14th inst.

Alex. Thompson, charged with breaking down a gate belonging to A. L. Alexander; jury trial; verdict of guilty; case continued for judgment, till this morning.

THE "ORIFLAMME" AGROUND.—The detention of the Oriflamme was accounted for at 5 o'clock last evening, by a dispatch from Monticello, stating that she was aground at Woody Island. The Okanagan from Astoria coming up, took off the Oriflamme's cabin passengers, mails and express matter and brought them up to this city, arriving at 10 o'clock P. M. The Cascade was dispatched down the river to light the Oriflamme of a part of her cargo and thus enable her to get off.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Capt. John Wolf, of the Hunt, informed us last evening that on last Sunday, Captain Henry Gray, of the steamer Owyhee, while out hunting near Wallula, accidentally discharged his gun, the contents taking effect in his right hand, badly shattering it. The wound was so bad that Dr. Steinberger, of Walla Walla was sent for, who, upon his arrival, found it necessary to amputate the member at the wrist.

TRADE AT WALLA WALLA.—The Statesman of the 17th says: "Business of all kinds is looking up, and the complaint of dull times, so common a few weeks back, has ceased. Money is easier and loans are effected at low rates. All the indications are healthy, and the opinion now obtains that having touched the bottom, in future we may calculate upon a lively trade and active demand for our surplus product.

DEATH OF MRS. HILL BEACHY.—The Idaho Statesman of the 15th says: "The painful news reached here yesterday of the death of Mrs. Beachy, wife of Hill Beachy, which occurred at Hunter's Station a day or two ago. She had been ill several days, but was thought out of danger. Mrs. Beachy was well known throughout the Territory, and her death brings sorrow and sadness to many households."

PRODUCE FROM THE COLUMBIA.—The steamer Ranger arrived from below, yesterday afternoon, with 40 gunnies onions, 64 gunnies potatoes, 8,000 feet lumber, lot of game, and lot of half barrels. She also brought 17 passengers from Monticello and way landings.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—To-day, at 10 o'clock A. M., Mr. A. B. Richardson, auctioneer, will offer for sale, at his auction sales room, block No. 211, formerly occupied by the Oregon Iron Works. The block will be sold in separate lots of 50 by 100 feet each, for half cash down, and six months time on the other half. This property is splendidly situated for homesteads.

A GOOD THING.—We notice that, for two or three days the Street Commissioner has had a man engaged in cleaning out the water sluices along Front and Second streets. Some of them are filled with the filthiest kind of offensively scented garbage, and if allowed to remain long in such a condition, must have contributed much toward the introduction of disease.

THE CONGO MINSTRELS.—The performance last evening by the Congo Minstrels, at the Willamette Theater, was an unusually good one for that line of entertainments. Graham, Sprague and Delorau, were decidedly at home. The audience was a fair one and it fully appreciated the humors of the interlude, if hearty applause be any indication of appreciation.

GOING BELOW.—The steamer Rainier, Capt. Korne, will start to-day for Rainier, where she will take on lumber for finishing her cabins, and then proceed up the Cowlitz river for the purpose of removing some snags from the channel while the water is yet low. She will be ready for regular trips as soon as there shall be a rise in the river.

ARRIVAL OF MINERS.—The steamer Hunt brought down yesterday, a large number of miners from Idaho and Eastern Oregon. There were already a good many of them here, some of whom are awaiting passage to San Francisco by the Oriflamme. The hotels are nearly all full and some of them are absolutely crowded.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—AT CHAMBERS.—In the habeas corpus case Susan A. Bennett vs. J. Bennett—before Judge Deady, a motion was filed yesterday for the dismissal of the proceedings on the ground of want of jurisdiction; argued and the case continued for further argument and decision, to-day.

FOR BURIAL.—The remains of Miss Louisa Berry, a young lady formerly of this city but late of La Grande, were brought down on board the steamer Hunt, yesterday, for burial by her friends, in the Hebrew cemetery near this city. The funeral ceremonies will take place to-day.

THE "SENATOR."—The shaft of the Senator, which was broken something over two weeks ago, has been repaired at Oregon City and was brought down on the Alert last evening. It will be put in place as soon as practicable, and the Senator will soon be again in running order.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—Arrived per steamer Alert from Oregon City, yesterday, 1 bale mdse, 1,184 qr sks flour, lot of pig iron for Willamette Iron Works, 50 gunnies wheat, 3 bales woolen goods, 1 case mdse and 74 boxes apples.

ARRESTED.—There were two or three arrests yesterday afternoon on criminal charges—one for stealing a horse and two for an assault and battery. The cases will be examined this morning before the Recorder.

WHEAT.—Wheat opened yesterday morning at 95c to $1 00. During the day it went up to $1 10 for choice, clean. At the close, the range was from 90c to $1 10, as extreme figures.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—Mr. C. Beal, G. W. C. T. of the order of Good Templars, by invitation of the lodges of Salem, delivered a temperance lecture at that place last evening.

CIRCUIT COURT—IN VACATION.—In the suit of Ann McCarty vs. Patrick McCarty; petition for divorce; an entry of default of defendant was made yesterday, by the clerk.

COUNTY COURT—IN VACATION.—In the case of L. H. Wakefield vs. James Strang, judgment was entered, yesterday, against defendant for the sum of $130 80, coin.

TREASURE RECEIPT.—The steamer Hunt brought down, yesterday, for Wells, Fargo & Co., $20,000 in treasure from the Upper Columbia.

On account of the steamer Oriflamme getting aground Barman Bros. are unable to open out their new stock of Clothing until to-morrow.

POSTPONED.—The great sale of furs advertised by Mr. A. B. Richardson to take place to-day, has been postponed for a day or two, in consequence of the non-arrival of the steamer Oriflamme. Due notice will be given hereafter of the time of sale. The regular sale of groceries, furniture, and general merchandise, for Wednesday, has not been postponed.

FOR ASTORIA AND CATHLAMET.—The steamer Ranger will leave Portland on Wednesday, October 23d, for Astoria and Cathlamet.

CLAM CHOWDER.—This favorite lunch will be set out to-day at the Excelsior Soda Works. Enough for all callers.

The Proprietor of the LAFAYETTE RESTAURANT takes pleasure in informing his friends and the public in general, that from this date, and during the oyster season, he will keep his establishment open at night until 2 o'clock A. M., and will serve Oysters and Suppers in every style.
PIERRE MANUEL.

FROM JUDGE MARQUAM.—I have used Hanley's Royal Balsam for a bad cough, and I find it a splendid medicine. I have recommended it to a great many. They speak very highly of the medicine, and I freely recommend it to the public.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts. The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and inocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

The Lost Genius

BY J J PIATT

A giant came to me when I was young,
  My instant will to ask—
My earthly Servant from the earth he sprung
  Eager for any task.

"What wilt thou, O my Master?" he began;
  "Whatever can be" I
"Say but thy wish—what 'er thou wilt I can"
  The strong slave made reply.

"Enter the earth and bring its riches forth
  For pearls explore the sea
He brought from East and West and South and North,
  All treasures back to me!

"Build me a palace wherein I may dwell"
  "Awake and see it done,"
Spake his great voice at dawn   O miracle!
  That glittered in the sun!

"Find me the princess fit for my embrace,
  The vision of my breast,—
For her search every clime and every race,"
  My yearning arms were blessed!

"Get me all knowledge" Sages with their lore,
  And poets with their songs,
Crowded my palace halls at every door,
  In mute obedient throngs

"Now bring me wisdom" Long ago he went;
  (The cold task harder seems)
He did not hasten with the last content,—
  The rest, meanwhile, were dreams!

Houseless and poor on many a trackless road,
  Without a guide, I found
A white-haired phantom with the world his load
  Bending him to the ground!

"I bring thee wisdom, Master" Is it he,
  I marvelled then in spoke?
"Thy palace-builder, beauty-seeker too!"
  I saw the Ghost of Youth!

—From the Atlantic Monthly

A Revengeful Woman.

Lucretia Granville was engaged to be married to Francis, Duke of Buckingham, at the time he fell in battle, slain by the hand, it was said, of Cromwell himself. The lady on receiving intelligence of the Duke's death, vowed to avenge it upon the person of Cromwell. For three years she exercised herself in firing with pistols at a mark, and that she might not be terrified by the appearance of her victim, she selected for her target a portrait of the usurper, and as soon as she thought herself perfect she sought an opportunity to gratify her revenge. But Cromwell rarely appeared in public, and when he did it was with such caution that few could approach him. An occasion at length occurred—the city of London resolved to give a magnificent banquet in honor of the Protector, who, from political motives, determined to make his entrance into the city with all the splendor of royalty. Upon this being made public, the curiosity of all ranks was excited and the enraged lady resolved not to lose so favorable an opportunity for carrying out her evil designs. It so happened that the procession was appointed to pass through the very street in which she resided; and a balcony, before the first story of her house, yielded her full scope for putting her long meditated design into effect. On the day appointed, she seated herself, with several female companions in the balcony; and on this occasion—for the first time since her lover's death—she cast aside her sable attire, and appeared in gorgeous apparel. It was not without the greatest exertion that she concealed the violent emotion under which she labored; and when the increasing pressure of the crowd indicated the approach of Cromwell, her feelings became so powerful that she nearly fainted. However, she recovered, just as the Protector arrived within a few paces of the balcony. Hastily drawing a pistol from under her garments, she deliberately took aim and fired, but a sudden start, which the lady who sat next to her made on beholding the weapon, gave it a different direction to what was intended, and the ball killed the horse rode by the Protector's son. The event immediately arrested the cavalcade, and Cromwell—at the same time that he cast a fierce look of indignation toward the balcony—beheld a singular spectacle. More than twenty females might be seen on their knees, imploring his mercy with uplifted hands, while one only stood undaunted in the midst of them, and looking down contemptuously on the Protector, exclaimed:

"Tyrant it was I who dealt the blow; nor should I rest satisfied with killing a horse instead of a tiger, were I not convinced that before another year is passed your destiny would be sealed."

The multitude, enraged at this ferocious attempt to assassinate the chief person in the realm, were about to tear down the house, when Cromwell cried aloud, with great coolness and intrepidity:

"Desist, my friends! Alas! poor woman, she knows not what she does!"

So saying, he pursued his course. But very soon orders were issued to secure the person of the offender, and Lucretia passed her days as the inmate of a lunatic asylum.

The Josh Billings Papers.

SUM ADVISE.

Mi yung friend, yu are about tew begin life, and altho it may seem dredful impossible tew yu, nevertheless yu will be liabel to make some mistakes while yu are sooring, or during the fust mile or two.

Let me mix up a little advise for yu tew take till you get tew trotting stiddy.

Yu will observe the advise is designed for young gentlemen who show sum signs of speed, and also that I reason right from the shoulder.

1st. Treat the old man and the old woman az yure equals; smile when they exhort, and laff when they entreat, for no yung man kan hope for sukcess in the ornamental walks ov life who dont wear the belt at home.

2. If you kant raze a mustash, commit suicide at once and begin agin, for it iz better tew die than to suffer disgrace.

3. Cultivate impudence—impudense is a good substitute for bravery—only be a little keerful tew pick yure customers when yu try it.

4 Keep a trotter and a fiting rooster. These animals will let yu into the konfidence ov men [illegible] will watch over yure morals and huse yure [illegible]

5. [illegible] the old fogys; they are a miserabel [illegible] surly croakers, who, like a third rate [illegible] have larnt what littel they kno about virtew by simply being overmatched in a fair fight.

6 Suspekt all female virtew. This will give yu an easy flow of ambiguous language while in the sosiety of the ladys and enable yu tew awaken confushion, wich yu kan sell suthing else.

7. If yu get desparit, and must marry, marry for ducats—marrying for biss or for luv iz too sloppy for a man of spirit. Luv iz a low pashun, and is designed for 2 story houses on one of the back streets, not for a brown stun front.

8. Bi aul means, larn to sware and smoke freely, and don't ever mistake ale water for milk punch, unless yu want a soft thing.

9. Call religion a stock jobber's pigeon to ketch flatts with; say that virtew is only the galvanized impotence of cowards; that wisdom is but an egg that iz addled; laf at aul things that are sollem, and sware that Backus and Venus are the only tew gods fit to be worshipt.

Yung man, cultivate aul the above graces, and add tew them what the ardor of yure genius may inspire, and if the hoss jockeys and pimps generally don't say yu are a cuss of the brightest hew, and if the devil don't make yu sum flatterin proposals, the days of chivalry are positively over, and pudding and milk has got more glory in it than a brandy smash, a rum sour, or even a thomas and jerry.

DOWN STAIRS AND UP STAIRS.—London Society gives the following;

I know an old gentleman—an irascible old gentleman—who standing by chance one afternoon inconveniently near the top of the kitchen stairs, after summoning his brougham for the second time that day, heard a favorite footman exclaim to the confidential valet: "I'm blest if that infernal old nonsense ain't ordered out the carriage again." Now you know that was by no means a pleasant remark to reach one's ears in the decline of life, uttered by a paid lackey, the buttons of whose very coat were adorned with the family crest; but I am not at all sure that the old gentleman to whom I refer was justified in the severe retaliation which he adopted. The wretched Jenkins (let us call him) was dismissed on the spot, and had nothing but a month's wages to console him in his adversity. The consequence was, no doubt, that he repaired to the Black Lion that evening and entertained his liveried friends with a very disrespectful, if not perverted, account of the affair. I dare say his late master became a laughing stock of the bar-parlor, that his wig and wizen face, his gout and gaiters, his peppery disposition and general peculiarities were discussed in a manner which was anything but pleasant. Suppose, instead of taking so summary a revenge, he had retired to his study, taken a glass of Madeira, just to steady his nerves, rung the bell and told Jenkins not to talk so loud down stairs if he wished to keep his place. Can't you imagine how crest fallen the poor minion would have been? What an old trump the man he served must henceforth be considered in his eye? and with how much zeal he might have continued his service? But, "who can be wise, amazed, temperate and furious," as the Thane of Cawdor once justly asked, "in a moment?" No man. And upon my word, when one comes to think of it, the provocation was very great

Some wicked persons stuck the following on the door of a country church in New York · Notis — This plais is klosed fur repairs onto the preacher. His voise is gin out, and we've sent him to Saratogy to recooper it, onter full pay. Sinners under konvicshun is respectfully requested to adjourn to Saratogy, ell they has the stamps."

THE TABLES TURNED.—The following story is related in Raik's Journal of the Queen of Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden, who was deposed by a conspiracy in 1809 The Hereditary Prince was the son of Bernadotte, and is now King of Sweden.

The Queen did the honors with great seeming affability, and played a rubber of whist with the Hereditary Prince and the Ambassadors of England and Russia. After cards tea was served with a magnificent plateau prepared for the Queen and the Prince The Queen advanced and poured the tea into two cups, indicating one to the Prince, who, just as he was in the act of taking it, suddenly felt the pressure of a thumb on his shoulder, forcibly and significant enough to convince him that it was meant for a warning, the purport of which as quickly flashed upon his senses With considerable presence of mind he immediately exclaimed

"Ah, madam, it is impossible that I can permit your majesty to serve me!"

Seizing the plateau he turned it round adroitly in such a manner that the cup which was intended for him was placed before the Queen, and the other before himself The Queen, turned mortally pale, and Charles John watched the event with anxiety, still uncertain whether his suspicions were well grounded. Was she about to confess her crime? No? she quickly recovers, takes the cup, makes a smiling salutation to the Prince, and drinks up the last drop On the following day, the Gazette of Stockholm contained a short paragraph

"The Queen Dorothea died suddenly during the night, and the cause of her death was generally imputed to apoplexy." This happened in 1813.

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

HAS NOW BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR A length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction, but, on the contrary, all are delighted with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the diseases for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it.

☞ Read the following testimonials from some of the most prominent citizens of Oregon:

MIRACULOUS CURE.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir. I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my wife. She had been affected with a severe cough for several weeks, which had assumed a dangerous feature, for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit, and all the remedies failed to give her any relief. Without relief was got I feared for the worst, in her present condition. The cough appeared to be worse at night, she could get no rest—when Mr. Randall, of this place, advised me to try your Royal Balsam; all other remedies having failed, I concluded to try it, and I purchased two bottles. Strange to say, by the time I gave her three spoonfuls of the Balsam she got relief, and slept, a thing she had not done for three nights previous. By the time she had taken one bottle the cough was checked. Its effect was truly miraculous, as the cure was effectual. hence, I have no hesitation in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it appears astonishing to me that medicine of such great merit, and I might say magical effect, is not more in use. My candid opinion is, if persons use it once, they never be without it in the house.
Vancouver, March 1, 1867.   H. COCHRAN.

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 15, 1867.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me. For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis, and have spent a fortune to get cured, trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to no purpose, Through the influence of my neighbors (for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam and finding that it relieved me considerable, I sent for a half dozen more. And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured I gained ten pounds within a month and feel quite a different man I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity, that through my experience others in affliction may be relieved as I have been   Yours truly,
WILLIAM DOTY.

From Sophia M. Holman.

DEAR DR HENLEY—It is my duty to inform you and the public, what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children. Two of them had a very bad cough and cold, I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam, and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning and that was all that was needed to cure them. I was astonished at not hearing them cough again, but so it was I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant, and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy, as it acts like magic on children. What I have seen and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease, had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I consider it a blessing and Godsend to mankind
Yours truly,   SOPHIA M. HOLMAN

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale But Dr Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all In fact, we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind—and really it seems of no use to keep any other. During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases, when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had. I find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma. We acknowledge it is a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction

BELL & PARKER,
Druggists, Oregon City

From W. F. Barber.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir I had the Asthma for the last four years, so bad that it came near choking me I tried all the patent medicines recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good, till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam, which on several afflicted with the same disease has performed wonders I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since, and I really believe that I am perfectly cured anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease
I am Yours truly,
W F BARBER

From J. H. Morril.

DEAR DR HENLEY—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public, for there is so much humbug going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now a days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine I was affected with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years, I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time, I tried some of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and on this coast, all to no purpose I could get no relief and I really thought there was no relief for me in this world. I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me, and before I had used up four bottles, the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody; my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it, I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam, and I conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial
I remain yours, truly,
J H MORRIL.

I HAVE USED RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT for pain and swelling of the gum and cheek I had a large tumor forming on the gum which arose from killing the nerve in my tooth and caused me a dreadful pain which prevented me from sleep for several nights I applied the Liniment, and to my surprise, it removed the lump and eased the pain so that it is now as well as the other cheek My cheek was fearfully swollen. NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies. see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure, Dr. G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc, will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

SCROFULA AND KING'S EVIL!

by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable extracts; it contains no Mercury or other mineral substance

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything, from the days of Æsculapius down to the present time, in the arcana of Medical Science, which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be more safely and certainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER Thousands have been swept into their graves, who had they made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE, might now be enjoying the blessings of life and health It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself During the stern ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test trial and not been found wanting ☞ Dr HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world and eradicate the disease entirely from the system, or no charge made —provided they will secure him his pay when they are cured.

FOR REFERENCE

I would refer you to L L Peck, of Portland, Oregon, and numbers of others, as to what a miraculous effect it had in a short time, in cases that had baffled the skill of physicians for years
